

BRITISH ASSOCIATION OF DERMATOLOGISTS
HEALTHY SKIN FOR ALL

THE SIR ARCHIBALD GRAY MEDAL

Nomination Guidelines

The British Association of Dermatologists (BAD) is a charity whose objectives are the practice, teaching, training, and research of Dermatology. Founded 102 years ago, the BAD strives to improve skin health for all people by demonstrating the principles of equality, fairness, care, and collaboration.

The British Association of Dermatologists aims to recognise and celebrate individuals who have made outstanding contributions within the field of dermatological care. The BAD Executive Committee considers recommendations for individuals nominated by the BAD membership for one of our Awards.

Sir Archibald Gray Medal

The Sir Archibald Gray Medal is awarded annually as the British Association of Dermatologists' highest accolade to an individual for an outstanding contribution and service to British dermatology. The Medal, named after the BAD founder, for his outstanding work in dermatology, was established in 1963.

Sir Archibald Gray (1880-1967) was President of the BAD in 1939, having been Secretary and long-standing Editor and Treasurer for 20 years. As well as the founder, he was described as 'the very backbone' of the BAD for decades and was central to establishing dermatology as a mainstream speciality in the UK in the early twentieth century.

The successful nominee will receive:

- The Sir Archibald Gray Medal.
- Lifetime Honorary Membership of the BAD.

The Sir Archibald Gray Medal and scroll will be presented at the 103rd BAD Annual General Meeting in Liverpool on Tuesday 27th June 2023.

Nominations

This award is open to Honorary and Ordinary members of good standing. Nominations are invited from Honorary and Ordinary members. Please send a citation (500 words maximum) in support of your nomination by completing the awards nomination form and returning it to: admin@bad.org.uk by 17:00 on Monday 3rd April 2023.

Please note that previous recipients of the Sir Archibald Gray Medal are not eligible to be nominated and self-nominations are not accepted.

Nominations are accepted for both the Sir Archibald Gray Medal and the Clinician of the Year Awards in the same round of awards, however if successful in both, the nominee would be permitted to accept only one award - the Sir Archibald Gray Medal.

Awards Criteria

Please consider the following points which could demonstrate evidence of an *outstanding contribution and service:

- Evidence of peer recognised innovation and leadership in the nominee's research/teaching/training/education/public service.
- Evidence of key publications and wide dissemination.
- Evidence of contribution to one major area of knowledge or practice, beyond what is usually required for academic or professional competence.
- Evidence of specific and significant ways that the nominee has advanced their knowledge and practice within the field of dermatology to impact on others.
- Evidence that the nominee has acquired a national reputation through making a major impact within a particular area or within the field of dermatological care.
- Evidence of the influence the nominee has had on the development of national policy.
- Evidence of membership of national committees.
- Impact of career.

*Please note that there is not an expectation or requirement that all of these elements have been achieved or demonstrated by the nominee. Each citation will have its own unique features that the Executive Committee will consider, and the above list serves only as a guide.
